Mailscape Helps a New Systems Administrator Prevent Exchange Outages While He Settles in to His New Position

[Orange, CA – Tuesday, 18 December, 2007]

ENow Inc, innovative leaders in the development of software to simplify Microsoft Exchange system management, is pleased to release a case study on LowerMyBills.com’s deployment of Mailscape.

Mailscape is a unique and innovative systems management tool that automates and streamlines Exchange monitoring, administration, and maintenance. Mailscape’s “one look dashboard” provides administrators with vital information about each server’s current state and growth rate to facilitate proactive Exchange management.

LowerMyBills.com is part of Experian Interactive, which itself is a member of Experian Group Limited, a global leader in helping organizations and individuals manage the risk and reward of financial and commercial decisions.

“When I joined LowerMyBills.com, I fully expected to have a lot to learn in a very short time,” says Minh Ly, Systems Administrator at LowerMyBills.com. “My first order of business was to make certain that I could prevent disruptive email outages—I needed something to monitor our Exchange servers and alert me to issues. But previous experiences made me painfully aware that most monitoring products are nightmares to install and would require far more time than I could spare to configure them to my requirements.”

“I knew I wouldn’t have time to baby-sit Exchange, so I needed a product that would alert me to problems in time for me to solve them before they could impact our end users,” continues Mr Ly. “I was pleasantly surprised to discover that Mailscape exceeded the expectations set by the marketing materials,” continues Mr Ly. “Mailscape installed in mere minutes and gave me immediate peace of mind.”

“We set out to create a ‘virtual Exchange administrator’ that would make life easier for administrators and also eliminate a lot of the stress inherent in managing a mission-critical Exchange environment,” says JP Gundotra, ENow’s Principal Architect. “We appreciate Mr Ly’s feedback because it validates all the thought we put into Mailscape’s elegant simplicity.”
